JULY MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT.

This month I want to write about the lack of members prepared to put items into the Royal Easter Show competitions. This has come about from discussions with David King our Assistant Events Co-ordinator and Tony Ney.

After some thought the following has come into my mind.

Firstly, I know a number of regions/clubs do a kind of judging for items at their monthly meeting “Show and Tell”.

Secondly, at the Royal Easter Show it seems that we always struggle to fill the cabinet.

And thirdly, David King and his wife inform me that they have a listing of almost 2,500 items for sale at the Timber Tools and Artisans Show.

So, why do we struggle to fill the cabinet at the Easter Show?

It cannot be a fear of being judged. This already happens at a region/club level in many cases.

I would have thought that if an item is good enough to sell with your name attached to it, it would be good enough to put into the Royal Easter Show.

I admit that I do not know what the problem is, but it is a problem that we need to address. If we do not find a solution we may lose the cabinet, and lose this very good advertisement for the craft and the Guild.

In past years the Guild started providing the prizes at the show to encourage participation. Later the prize money was increased, again to try and increase participation and most recently we have established two Novice Classes so less experienced turners do not have to go up against very experienced turners in open competition.

To date nothing seems to have worked. This is a great source of disappointment. Displaying our craft is one way of ensuring it does not die out. It shouts to the world that we are here and are making wonderful items for people to marvel at and enjoy.

I sincerely hope that next year will be a better year for competitions at the Easter Show. If you have an idea to increase participation in the Easter Show please feel free to contact me. We will certainly give all ideas a fair hearing.

So, until next time, to quote a previous Guild President “Keep the Lathes turning”, and have fun and PLEASE, look after yourselves and each other.

Philip McLeod

TOENAIL ISSUES

Toenails serve a purpose, which is to protect your toes. Pain, itching, and discoloration are just some of the signs of toenail problems.

Friction from your shoes, your level of physical activity, and the heat and moisture they're exposed to can wreak havoc on your toenails, as can some health conditions.

This is a guide to some toenail issues (but not a total list), but you should consult your doctor or a podiatrist with any issues.

Toenail fungus is a common condition. About 10% of all people are affected. The older you are the more likely you are to experience it. About half of all people over age 70 develop this infection. Toenail fungus can be caused by a fungal infection on your foot or from walking barefoot where someone else with an infection has walked, such as saunas or locker rooms.

Fungi thrive in dark and damp environments, so people whose feet remain wet for extended periods have an increased risk of toenail fungal infections. This can happen when wearing the same sweaty shoes or boots every day or working in wet conditions.

People with diabetes are also at high risk for this infection.

Ingrown toenails are one of the most common and most painful toenail problems. It occurs when the corner or side of your toenail grows into the flesh.

• This can be caused by:

- cutting your toenails too short
- cutting your toenails on a curve instead of straight across
- injuring your toenail
- having unusually large or curved toenails

Toenail trauma can happen several ways, including:

- stubbing your toe
- dropping something heavy onto your foot
- wearing ill-fitting shoes
- picking at nails

Activities such as running or ballet dancing (maybe not so much for older guys) may also cause trauma to the toenail, as can a poorly performed pedicure. Injuring a toenail can result in a collection of blood (or hematoma) under the nail. Other damage can include a partially or completely separated nail or injury to the underlying bone.

Nail clubbing refers to changes under and around the toenails that cause your toes to take on a widened, club-like appearance. Clubbing is most often caused by an underlying medical condition, such as heart disease, lung disease, gastrointestinal disorders, and cancer. It can also be an inherited trait in some people.

Clubbing can develop gradually over weeks or years, depending on the cause.

THE GUILD WISHES TO REMIND MEMBERS THAT MEMBERSHIPS FALL DUE ON 30 JUNE 2022.

As at 30 MAY 22 the Guild has $12,880.04 in the bank.

Guild Report 30 May 2022:

Total funds including the investment account at end of May was $13,140.13

This is down from $14,553.71 at the beginning of the financial year because of the costs of setting up the new workshop. Very reasonable thanks to the enormous amount of work by a number of devoted members.

Some new members (and one previous) have joined us. We hope there will be more and this could mean opening the workshop more days in the week, perhaps even Tuesday evenings.

Sales at the Moss Vale Show were good. Perhaps we will return to the open air markets again as the Covid crisis eases.

We should not have too much more expenditure on the workshop but rental is now 4 x $330 = $1,320 p.a. so overall we cannot expect our total funds to change much in the coming months.

May Show and Tell:

Michael Adamietz (foreground) and Mike Darlow reflect on the 'nearly completed' chair made by Michael.

Frank Marossi presented a candle holder made from a piece of 'firewood' that he (thankfully) saved from a fiery fate.
April Show and Tell:

Above - some of the items presented at the May 'Show and Tell'.

Mike turns a Japanese tea caddy from 'rescued' paper bark.

Mike parts-off the base of the tea caddy.

Gerald di Corpo contributed the following photograph of his recently completed 'fiddle rail' and shelf.

Col Hayman been able to devote himself to painting and has a work (above) hanging in the present exhibition in the Bowral Art Gallery.

Col Hayman did a sterling job as Editor of Woodchips for many years.

In his editorial retirement Col has been able to devote himself to painting.

Jacko Remembered

QUIZ ANSWERS

1/ Radiata Pine. Timbers with high silica content blunt tools quickly.

2/ Screw chucks have great holding power in side grain but far less in end grain. End grain work can be held on a screw chuck, especially if the work is small and the screw is large, however for most end grain projects, a screw chuck is inadequate. Self centering chucks with long spigot jaws have far greater holding power. Other options would be to use a cup chuck or faceplate with several long, deep threaded screws.

3/ The threaded part of the headstock spindle onto which faceplates and chucks are screwed.

4/ The wide, shallow fluted roughing gouge is so user friendly on between center work that it is tempting to try it on pieces where the grain runs at 90 degrees to the lathe bed. However in this context the wide shaving that it takes is very difficult to control and likely to cause a monster dig-in which could easily split the wood into two very dangerous pieces.

5/ Turning the end grain on faceplate work, in this case the rim of a bowl, is particularly hard on tools and necessitates more frequent sharpening than the other examples listed.
