JANUARY MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT.

Welcome to 2024 the January edition of By Hand and Eye and Happy New Year to everyone.

Firstly, I want to congratulate Bill Black for being awarded Life Membership of Menai Region. Bill was one of the first people that I met at my first Guild meeting. It became obvious that Bill was very knowledgeable about the Guild Constitution and procedures. He continues to guide those of us with less knowledge about the way to do things. He is a valued member of the Guild Committee. Well done Bill!

Secondly, I want to congratulate Bill Dinning of Southern Highlands on receiving his Life Membership of the club. I have not met Bill, but I am sure the award is well deserved.

There are a couple of things I need to address at this stage of the year.

Firstly, The Royal Easter Show is on. We are demonstrating from 22 March to 27 March inclusive from 7:30AM to 4:30PM. We need 6 turners per day, (only 3 will be turning at any one time). The others are free to go and see the show. You get free entry to the show and there will be parking for 3 cars per day, (car pooling advised).

If you can help please let David King know your name, contact number and the day you would like to demonstrate BY 6 FEBRUARY 2024. This is so security can be advised you will be coming in on the day.

You do not need to be a gun turner to demonstrate at the show. Quick simple things are the order of the day. They are give aways for the kids. So, things like finger tops, tooth pick holders small Christmas Trees, mini baseball bats etc.

Next the ongoing saga of the Carbatec discount for members. You must have your CURRENT membership card, you need to quote account number 337123. I would also recommend taking a copy of the advertisement from By Hand and Eye with you. You should also note that not all items will attract the discount. I am assured by the Carbatec Marketing Team that appropriate training has now been carried out for Sydney staff members. I sincerely hope that this helps, and keep letting your reps know if the problem continues. I will continue to fight for your discount.

Until next time, have a happy and safe festive season and to quote a previous Guild President "Keep the Lathes turning", and have fun.

Philip McLeod

(PHILIP MCLEOD)
PRESIDENT

WELFARE

It is with great sadness that I have to let you all know that our Secretary / Treasurer, (Ian Cocks), lost his wife in January. She had been battling an infection for several weeks, but finally lost her battle. May she Rest in Peace, and I know you join with me in expressing our most sincere condolences to Ian and his family.

FALLS PREVENTION - Home Safety

Is your home a hazard?

One in three people 65 years and over living in the community will have at least one fall during the next 12 months.

More than half of these falls happen in and around the home.

A safe home and surroundings can help you to maintain an independent lifestyle and reduce your risk of falling.

Check your surroundings and take steps to make them safer.

- Floors: Secure rugs (or remove them). Have non-slip floors. Remove clutter.
- Cords and cables: Remove cords and cables from walkways.
- Lighting: Ensure adequate lighting in all rooms, steps and stairs. Use night lights in-side and sensor lights outside.
- Stairs and Steps: Mark edges of steps clearly, use slip-resistant strips. Install handrails the full length of the stairs/steps.
- Bathroom: Install grab rails, use a non-slip mat, be careful on wet floors.
- Kitchen: Mop up spills straight away. Don't climb on chairs to reach high cupboards.
- Garden areas: Make sure that paths are even and free of moss. Keep paths free of garden tools.

For further help:

- Home safety checklist - on home hazards and suggestions to manage them, is available in the Staying Active and on Your Feet booklet. Ask your health professional for a copy or see www.activeandhealthy.nsw.gov.au.

- Ask an occupational therapist for suggestions on how to adapt your home environment.

TODAY'S PIECE OF PHILOSOPHY.

STORY ONE.

Many years ago, Al Capone virtually owned Chicago. Capone wasn't famous for anything heroic. He was notorious for enmeshing the windy city in everything from bootlegged booze and prostitution to murder. Capone had a lawyer nicknamed "Easy Eddie." He was Capone's lawyer for a good reason. Eddie was very good! In fact, Eddie's skill at legal maneuvering kept Big Al out of jail for a long time. To show his appreciation, Capone paid him very well. Not only was the money big, but Eddie got special dividends, as well. For instance, he and his family occupied a fenced-in mansion with live-in help and all of the conveniences of the day. The estate was so large that it filled an entire Chicago City block. Eddie lived the high life of the Chicago mob and gave little consideration to the atrocity that went on around him. He did have one soft spot, however. He had a son that he loved dearly. Eddie saw to it that his young son had clothes, cars, and a good education. Nothing was withheld. Price was no object. And, despite his involvement with organized crime, Eddie even tried to teach him right from wrong. Eddie wanted his son to be a better man than he was.

Yet, with all his wealth and influence, there were two things he couldn't give his son; he couldn't pass on a good name or a good example. One day, Easy Eddie reached a difficult decision. Easy Eddie wanted to rectify the wrongs he had done. He decided he would go to the authorities and tell the truth about Al "Scarface" Capone, clean up his tarnished name, and offer his son some semblance of integrity. To do this, he would have to testify against The Mob, and he knew that the cost would be great. So, he testified. Within the year, Easy Eddie's life ended in a blaze of gunfire on a lonely Chicago Street. But in his eyes, he had given his son the greatest gift he had to offer, at the greatest price he could ever pay.

Police removed from his pockets a rosary, a crucifix, a religious medallion, and a poem clipped from a magazine. The poem read: "The clock of life is wound but once, and no man has the power to tell just when the hands will stop, at late or early hour. Now is the only time you own. Live, love, toil with a will. Place no faith in time. For the clock may soon be still."

STORY TWO.

World War II produced many heroes. One such man was Lieutenant Commander Butch O'Hare. He was a fighter pilot assigned to the aircraft carrier Lexington in the South Pacific.

One day his entire squadron was sent on a mission. After he was airborne, he looked at his fuel gauge and realized that someone had forgotten to top off his fuel tank. He would not have enough fuel to complete his mission and get back to his ship. His flight leader told him to return to the carrier. Reluctantly, he dropped out of formation and headed back to the fleet. As he was returning to the mother ship, he saw something that turned his blood cold; a squadron of Japanese aircraft was speeding its way toward the American fleet. The American fighters were gone on a sortie, and the fleet was totally defenseless. He couldn't reach his squadron and bring them back in time to save the fleet. Nor could he warn the fleet of the approaching danger. There was only one thing to do. He must somehow divert them from the fleet. Laying aside all thoughts of personal safety, he dove into the formation of Japanese planes. Wing-mounted 50 calibers blazed as he charged in, attacking one surprised enemy plane and then another. Butch wove in and out of the now broken formation and fired at as many planes as possible until all his ammunition was finally spent. Undaunted, he continued the assault. He dove at the planes, trying to clip a wing or tail in hopes of damaging as many enemy planes as possible, rendering them unfit to fly.

Finally, the exasperated Japanese squadron took off in another direction. Deeply relieved, Butch O'Hare and his tattered fighter limped back to the carrier. Upon arrival, he reported in and related the event surrounding his return. The film from the gun-camera mounted on his plane told the tale. It showed the extent of Butch's daring attempt to protect his fleet. He had, in fact, destroyed five enemy aircraft. This took place on February 20, 1942, and for that action Butch became the Navy's first Ace of W.W.II, and the first Naval Aviator to win the Medal of Honor. A year later Butch was killed in aerial combat at the age of 29. His hometown would not allow the memory of this WW II hero to fade, and today, O'Hare Airport in Chicago is named in tribute to the courage of this great man. So, the next time you find yourself at O'Hare International, give some thought to visiting Butch's memorial displaying his statue and his Medal of Honor. It's located between Terminals 1 and 2.

So, what do these two stories have to do with each other?

Butch O'Hare was "Easy Eddie's" son.

HUMOR FROM THE SHAVINGS.

SOME REFLECTIONS ON LIFE.

The main function of the little toe on your foot is to make sure that all the furniture in the house is in place.

You don't look anything like that long haired skinny kid I married 25 years ago. I need a DNA sample to make sure it is still you.

I'm so old that all my friends in heaven will think that I didn't make it.

Paranoia has reached absurd stages... I sneezed in front of my laptop and the anti-virus started to scan on its own.

I'm so old I can remember going through a whole day without taking a picture of anything.

You can't truly refer to yourself as an adult until you catch yourself getting really angry when the supermarket changes the layout.

I am old enough to remember when paper bags were being blamed for the destruction of trees - and plastic bags were the solution.

Not sure if I washed the spider down the shower drain hole or if it took one look at me naked and then willingly leapt to its death.

I felt uncomfortable driving into the cemetery. The GPS blurted out "you have reached your final destination".

PLEASE NOTE HUMOR FROM THE SHAVINGS WILL NO LONGER BE A REGULAR FEATURE. THIS IS DUE TO AN ACCIDENTAL PROBLEM WITH COPYWRITE. THE EDITOR.

NEW BOOK BY MIKE DARLOW – SOUTHERN HIGHLANDS MEMBER.

My new sharpening book is now available.

Sharpening Woodturning Tools (SWT) is the seventh book in Mike Darlow's colour woodturning series. It is now available in Australasia, North America and Europe only via Amazon's print-on-demand facility.

SWT explains why and shows how you can sharpen economically, quickly, with repeatable accuracy, and less often.

It achieves this by first explaining the principles (fundamental truths) of woodturning and sharpening which should determine how tools are sharpened. In doing so SWT shows that much of the huge volume of sharpening advice produced since 1956 has not been soundly based on these principles. SWT then discusses materials and equipment, and lastly how to optimally sharpen the different tool types.

Book details

SWT has 115 pages, size 8.5" x 11" (216 mm x 279 mm), plus a 5-page index. The book contains 242 illustrations, and has a soft cover.

SWT has five chapters:

Chapter 1, 4 pages.

- defines some basic terms
- shows how the sharpening advice provided since 1881 has varied

Chapter 2, 35 pages.

- details the principles of turning and of sharpening
- shows that since 1956 unnecessarily large sharpening angles have been promoted despite the introduction of HSS turning tools in the 1970s

Chapter 3, 29 pages.

- discusses tool steels, abrasives, grinders, honing, buffing, jigs and templates

Chapter 4, 46 pages.

- describes how to sharpen the different tool types
- shows how you can make your own grinding templates for platform and pivoting jigs
- challenges the conventional techniques for turning bowls

Chapter 5, 1 page.

- concludes that turning and sharpening have in some ways regressed because of the lack of objective criticism
- hopes that SWT's content will lead to a sound consensus on the optimum sharpening techniques.

Reviewing

I'd be grateful if you would consider reviewing SWT for the Amazon website, for woodturning and woodworking journals and magazines, and, if you're a member of a woodturning club, for its newsletter.

Publication and buying

The introduction of YouTube has adversely affected the viability of conventionally publishing how-to books. Mike has therefore published SWT using Amazon's print-on-demand facilities.

To order:

- go to Amazon.com.au
- at the top of the Amazon home page, click on the down arrow to the right of "All". Tick "Books" in the drop-down menu which appears. Write "mike darlow" in the blank space. Click on the orange magnifying glass to the right
- when the Mike Darlow page appears, SWT appears at the top of the page priced at $35.20 including GST. Click on the image of SWT's front cover
- When the SWT page appears, specify the quantity you want, and click on "Buy Now" in the orange obround.
- Continue through the buying steps, and Amazon will then print, bind and dispatch your order.

If you believe that others would benefit from reading SWT, I'd be grateful if you would tell them about SWT or forward this email to them.

Mike's email address is mike@mikedarlow.com His website address is <https://mikedarlow.com>

Now to the Quiz:

- 1/ In what region of Australia are the timbers Jarrah, Karri, Marri and Wandoo found?
- 2/ A lathe normally has three "...stocks" attached to the bed. What are they?
- 3/ Why must a faceplate be fully wound onto the nose of the lathe before it is switched on?
- 4/ Turnings with square sections, such as some table legs, should be accurately centred on the lathe. How can this be done with precision?
- 5/ Did vee belts start to replace flat belts in the 1830s, 1880s or 1930s?

AROUND THE REGIONS

FROM THE GUILD.

The Guild meeting was held on Monday 27th November.

Business arising from Minutes: The new wording for the change to the Guild Constitution Life Membership was approved. The new Public Officer needs to inform Fair Trading of the change.

Your Guild currently has $10,886.55 available to it.

There are 205 members as of 27 November 2023. We have not yet returned to pre Covid numbers.

Members have had a problem getting the discount from Carbatec. The Guild will contact Carbatec and clarify the situation. It is suggested you take a copy of the advertising in By Hand and Eye if you are planning a purchase as well as your Guild Membership card.

The Guild will be demonstrating for 6 DAYS at the Easter Show next year. We will have a larger area than previously. We will also have more cabinet space. PLEASE LOOK IN YOUR STORAGE AREAS AT HOME, FIND A PIECE THAT YOU THINK IS PRETTY GOOD AND ENTER IT INTO THE SHOW. We need to fill the space.

The Timber Tools and Artisans Show is looking like going ahead in June, if they can organise the exhibitors. If it goes ahead it will probably be at Homebush.

The new wording for the Guild Constitution has been agreed to by the representatives of the Regions/Clubs. Once Fair Trading have been notified of the change copies will be distributed to all the Regions/Clubs.

Region / Club Membership Secretaries please note that until further notice new memberships, or members renewing paperwork should go to Ken Morgan (swgmembershipsec@gmail.com) , cc'd Ian Cocks (ian.cocks@gmail.com).

Members and regions / clubs are reminded that if you are meeting out of normal times, or at different places or doing activities PLEASE let the Secretary know. A large part of your membership is for insurance, but it ONLY WORKS if the secretary knows about what is happening. An email or phone call is all that is required.

FROM THE EDITOR – When taking photographs for inclusion in the BH&E please try to put the item on a white, or light coloured background with as much natural light as possible. This will make it come out better in the newsletter. Thank you.

SOUTHERN HIGHLANDS REGION.

Guild Report from December 2023 Newsletter:

Michael and Kate Adamietz welcomed members to their fabulous farm for the Woodies Christmas Party on Saturday 25th November. Their gorgeous Scottish cattle were interested observers as members rolled up.

Catering was by the irrepressible Gerald & Luise di Corpo and Syd Dunford with assistance from 'Santa's helpers' aka Woodies and their near and dear.

One of the many highlights of the luncheon was the awarding of Life Membership to Bill Dinning.

Another highlight was the Mike Darlow quiz - 18 questions on woodturning and 13 on general knowledge. All members struggled for a pass mark on the quiz with Gerald di Corpo the winner with a score of 8 out of a lot (Editor - best not to get into the specifics of the total number of questions. Suffice it to say everyone may have to 'show cause' for their abysmally low correct score. Alternatively, Mike may have to insert some easier questions next year!)

QUIZ ANSWERS

1/ South West Western Australia. Jarrah (Eucalyptus marginata) represents two thirds of the sawn timber production of W.A. and is used for heavy construction, housing and fine furniture.

2/ Headstock, toolstock and tailstock.

3/ To insure that the faceplate doesn't jam onto the headstock. The problem can be countered by inserting a spacer such as a synthetic washer between the faceplate and the headstock or by fully winding on the faceplate at all times.

4/ After the timber is centered as accurately as possible the lathe is switched on and the corners of a waste part of the square section are nicked with the long point of a skew chisel. The lathe is stopped and the timber tapped towards the centre using the depth of the nicks as a guide. The tailstock is tightened and the process repeated until the timber is centered.

5/ 1930s.
